- g. Planning & Zoning Regarding Legal Use: First Selectman Don Lowe read a correspondence from the Planning and Zoning Commission. Followed by First Selectman Don Lowe reading the Board of Selectmen response.

August 8, 2025

Dear Selectmen,

The planning and Zoning Commission would like to bring to your attention our concerns regarding constraints and Legal Counsel access.

Background

The Planning and Zoning Commission's budget was reduced by 16.7% for the fiscal year 2025-2026, bringing the total to $10,000. Additionally, the Counsel and On-Going Litigation budget saw a 33% reduction. These cuts make the commission highly conscious of every dollar spent on Land Use Counsel.

Impact of Staffing Changes

For the past 18 months, the Commission has received minimal legal support from the Zoning Enforcement Officer. Previously, Ron Cooper, had offered seasoned guidance and legal expertise, which helped minimize the need for outside legal counsel. With his retirement, the Commission has felt this loss acutely. A new, qualified ZEO has recently been hired in agreement with the First Selectman. This individual is expected to help the Commission review State Statutes and case law thoroughly as they make decisions. However, there will be a period of adjustment as the new ZEO becomes familiar with the Town, their responsibilities, local regulations, and the Commission's objectives.

Regulatory Interpretation and Legal Access

Planning & Zoning Commissioners strive to interpret and apply regulations faithfully and fairly, despite the current climate of short tempers and heightened personal expectations. When the legality of a request or decision has been uncertain, historically, Mr. Cooper would recommend a consult with the Commission's attorney, ensuring that actions remained within legal bounds and providing a measure of protection for the Commission.

Due to recent budget limitations and reduced access to legal counsel, the Commission has added a clause to Special Permit applications. This clause notifies applicants that they may be responsible for peer review costs, including attorney fees, in connection with their permit-potentially leaving them financially accountable for legal questions.

Current Process and Commission Concerns

The Commission is making every effort to comply with the funding approved via referendum. However, First Selectman Lowe has directed that any request for legal counsel must go through him for approval or denial. This requirement creates delays in application processing-a process bound by timelines set forth in State Statutes-and is seen as disrespectful to Commission members, who believe they are best positioned to judge when legal counsel is necessary.

Request to the Board of Selectmen

Given these circumstances, the Planning and Zoning Commission asks the Board of Selectmen to reconsider the mandate requiring pre-approval by the First Selectman for Land Use Counsel expenditures from the approved budget. The Commission, as a duly elected body responsible for upholding the Town's regulations and ensuring fair process, must have timely and independent access to legal guidance. This is vital not only to protect the Commission but also to safeguard residents' interests. Direct access to allocated legal funds will enable the Commission to fulfill its responsibilities effectively and transparently, upholding the standards expected by the Town of Sherman.

Sincerely,

*Planning and Zoning Commission
Sherman, CT*

August 27, 2025

TO: Sherman Planning and Zoning Commission

Dear Commissioners,

The Board of Selectmen has received your letter from August 8, 2025 that requests the following:

- 1. More budgeted operating money for legal expenses*
- 2. Direct access to legal representation without pre-approval*

The Board of Selectmen will gladly revisit the Planning and Zoning legal budget for both consultation and ongoing court costs in the next budget cycle. For now, we must work with the 2025/2026 budget approved by the voters. It is refreshing to read your statement "These cuts make the commission highly conscious of every dollar spent on Land Use Counsel." This equally mirrors the Board of Selectmen's consideration toward taxpayers' dollars spent on legal work and we commend you.

Out of respect for its taxpayers and to create a sense of order, the Board of Selectmen will continue with the pre-approval process. This is standard procedure in every municipality that the First Selectman has conferred with. To allow Planning and Zoning commissioners direct access without approval to legal assistance would be financially unwieldy and would also set a dangerous precedent concerning legal access for commissioners of all boards and commissions. The First Selectman is a phone call or an email away and can, in almost all cases, be easily reached for permission. With that said, the First Selectman has informed LUEO John Cody that if he encounters an emergency and cannot reach him, to go ahead and confer with legal. We would understand that situation.

Thank you to your entire commission for the service you provide to the Town of Sherman.

Best wishes,

Board of Selectmen

Selectman Joel Bruzinski agreed with the letter and went on the record to offer recognition and appreciation of the work being done by Planning and Zoning, including regulation enforcement.

Selectman Bob Ostrosky added that at any point during a fiscal year, if a commission feels their budget will be exceeded, bring the concern to the Board of Selectmen as certain situations have required it in the past.

Selectman Joel Bruzinski suggested that the Planning and Zoning track this year and bring concerns to the next budget meeting for discussion.

Selectmen to officially sign the letter at the adjournment of the meeting.

Art Commission member Christy Bonaiuto agreed that a final copy could be submitted for final review. The Commission for the Art would like to have the brochures printed in time for Farm Day at Happy Acres. First Selectman Don Lowe offered to go to the docks and meet about ideas.

Roland Hanley of Hillside Drive added that the cove down by the beach has a larger number of non-motorized vessels, such as paddleboards and kayaks, and offered to take First Selectman Lowe on his boat for a better view of the problem areas. The depth of the lake is also inaccurate.

Tim Laughlin of Benchmark Road agreed that the depth isn't what it once was. The channel is not for novice boaters.
